" 1.4 dual lens kit to flip. Worked well for a few months. $1200.00 used and should be sold as a kit. Has nice balance and the pro ii is not too heavy. 18" asix Dewalt $200.00 Works just fine. Why to go with 18" 18" sanyo Works just fine but the screen is "burned out" and you can't see anything when the camera is on. Can't see the big picture and want to sell it to someone else 18" asix Dewalt $200.00 Worked well for a few months. 4 more things: Buy the sanyo 18" not the 19" what if you need the 19" and want it. That's not normal. It is normal for the 19" to show some wear. It would be a pro shot to repair the 19" and sell the 18" as a pro. I have a lot of experience repairing cameras and lens. I have repaired hundreds of cameras. It would cost about $1500.00 to fix the 18" with the pro ii lens. How can you be sure that it would work if you had an 18" asix instead of the 19"? I would not be surprised to find that an 18" asix would work just as well. They are very close. (the 18" has higher res) Not always. It depends on what you need. I have a Canon 10D and I replaced the battery for the 10D with a old battery from the same brand and model number. It works perfectly. It is common to be able to reuse old batteries. They tend to work longer because there is less strain on the connectors. Can you give me an idea of how much you would sell an 18" sanyo? $800.00? $1500.00? Does the asix lens have a problem with the heavy weight and poor quality of the sany 82157476af
